Recommend Adams House Be Restored Or Razed; Ask Other Town Improvements

"The Adams House should be repaired and restored to a decent looking building or torn down," according to the report of the Second Ward councilmen to borough council at its meeting Monday evening in the engine house.

Three reports were presented to council, one for each ward, as prepared by the councilmen from those wards.

The First and Third Ward reports confined themselves to the need for new sidewalks and curbing while the Second Ward report, in addition to listing sidewalks and curbs needed, added a number of items for improvement which the councilmen said were "suggestions."

Among the list of suggestions was the renovation or demolition of the Adams House; a suggestion that the town build Constitution Ave. when the college field house is completed and extend W. Broadway to meet Constitution Ave., and suggestions to Gettysburg College that it replace or repair a number of curbs and sidewalks in the campus area when present construction of the field house, library and dormitory is completed.

KEEP WALK CLEANED

The Second Ward councilmen's report also recommended that the "Glenn L. Bream garage, for general sanitary reasons, keep the sidewalk on the side of garage clear of trash and grease."

It was recommended that the alley running east and west between Chambersburg and W. Middle St. be widened at the entrance and that the curb be rounded at the entrance to the alley.

The reports of the councilmen showed approximately 40 property owners will be sent notices to make repairs to curbs and sidewalks.

Ellis Smith appeared before council to complain about being arrested for parking a car on the sidewalk "when they do it all the time down the street."

Council President Glenn Guise told Smith the matter would be "taken care of."

FIX CURB LINE

Burgess Plank later brought up the question by stating, "It is recommended that the safety and highways committee recommend to council that a curb line be

COLDEST APRIL HERE SINCE '07; SURPLUS RAINS

Gettysburg Times weather records showed today that the month that ended Saturday was the coldest April here since 1907 and the wettest since 1932.

Only once since continuous weather records began here in 1903 has there been a colder April. That was in 1907 when the average temperature was 46.8 degrees and the coldest morning saw the mercury 14 degrees below freezing.

Last month's average daily temperature was 47.66 degrees, which is 4.64 degrees below the average for a normal April, which is 52.3 degrees. The range here in April was from a high of 83 degrees to a low of 29 degrees on the morning of April 4. Seven days saw freezing temperatures. Only two days saw 80-degree weather and the month's high was reached here the afternoon of April 24.

6 INCHES OF SNOW

To add to the month's laurels as the holder of exceptional weather records, the six inches of snow measured here last month made it the snowiest April since 1924 when nine inches fell here. The record for April snowfalls is held by 1918 when 10 inches were measured in Gettysburg.

April showers fell on eight days and made the month one of the six wettest Aprils on record here in nearly six decades. The total precipitation was 6.18 inches. Normal is 3.47 so that the month's surplus was 2.71 inches.

Daily high temperatures last month averaged 56.56 degrees while the daily lows were averaging 38.76. April of last year averaged about nine degrees warmer each day than this year.

The cold, wet April followed a very warm and very wet month of March.

April's showers brought the four-month accumulation of rain so far this year to 15.93 inches, a surplus of 3.5 inches.

The April snows helped set an

PLANNING BD. SENDS COUNCIL SUGGESTIONS

Gettysburg's Planning Commission Monday evening urged borough council to promote additional parking space by urging residents to remove the old stables, chicken houses and sheds that line the alleys of the town.

In a letter to the council, the planning commission suggested council authorize use of the borough workmen to remove the sheds and cart them away, if owners wish, to provide parking space at the rear of their lots for themselves and their tenants. Planning commission members expressed the belief that a number of old sheds might be removed if people knew there was a way of getting rid of the debris.

TRAFFIC SUGGESTION

The recommendation that borough encourage shed removal was contained in one letter by the planning commission to council. In another letter, the planning commission suggested that S. Stratton, E. High Sts., and Liberty Sts., be made two-way with parking on one side only.

No action was taken immediately by council on either letter.

The letter pertaining to sheds said: "The planning commission recommends that borough council, with the assistance of the police department, fire department and health department, encourage

COUNCIL BUYS NEW MACHINE FOR SPRAYING

Gettysburg purchased a new mosquito spraying machine at a meeting of the borough council Monday evening in the engine house.

The new machine, bought from Fogg, Inc., will cost $2,110 less $310 the borough will receive for its old machine.

Council accepted the bid of Irvin Houck, Hanover, to provide two 50-foot lengths of 3/4-inch booster line fire hose at a cost of $113.

LET TAR CONTRACT

The contract for tar went to the Service Supply Company at its bid of 24 1/2 cents a gallon.

Council voted to "try" black top on Franklin St. between Chambersburg and W. Middle Sts. Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said that the street has been reconstructed up to the top coating.

Council voted to "try" black topping because it gives the street a nicer appearance.

In response to a request from L. D. Shealer, council agreed to give a grade for rounding and opening of a sidewalk placed by

WILL FINISH SCHOOL WORK ON AUGUST 15

The Upper Adams Joint School Board, at a meeting in the all-purpose room of the elementary school, Monday evening heard a report from the architect that the additions and alterations to the high school building will be completed by Aug. 15. Another report said the health tests for the two new rooms at the Bendersville school had failed and that it would cost at least $20,000 to remedy the situation.

Business manager David Houck said that the tests were supposed to have been made in December, but due to the snows the test was not made until April. Even then, he said, "we didn't get a fair test" because there had been a great deal of rain just before the test.

ENGAGE INSTRUCTORS

The state suggested that a new sewerage system be installed. The resignation of music instructor Miss Joyce Kendlehart was accepted. The following instructors were engaged: Herbert Laughman, social studies at $4,200 a year; Mrs. Ralph Stoner, Third grade, $4,200 a year; Mrs. Howard Shoemaker, $4,700 a year, physical education.

MAY HAVE PAID PERSONNEL AT "QUICK CALL"

Adams County's quick-call system will be manned by salaried personnel if the county commissioners agree with action taken by borough council at its meeting in the engine house Monday night.

Councilman George Naugle asked council to authorize employment of an additional man to fill the six hours a day, week days, and all day Sundays now being filled by volunteer firemen. He said that he had been informed by the quick-call committee that it has become increasingly difficult to secure volunteers.

He said he had been informed by Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver that it is anticipated that the county commissioners would pay half of the cost of the additional man and that Civil Defense matching funds are now available. "As a result we can get full-time salaried men at what are now paying under the present set-up," he said.

NEW "RESOLUTION"

Council passed a resolution "authorizing the Gettysburg Fire Department" to hold meetings monthly, to hold fire drills at the direction of the fire chief, to hold an annual solicitation for funds and "participate in the annual anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg" in order to provide

MAKES DEBUT IN POST PIECE

General Eisenhower will make his debut as a Saturday Evening Post author in next week's issue, it was announced today by editor Ben Hibbs.

The announcement said the former President's by-line will appear on an article entitled

GENERAL EISENHOWER

"Now That I Am a Private Citizen . . ." dealing with his experiences and reflections on a half century of service to his country. Hibbs reported that this is the first of a number of magazine articles General Eisenhower is planning to write on topics of national interest and that these will be published in the Post.

General Eisenhower wrote the 4,500-word article while at Palm Desert, Calif., where he had gone three days after he retired from the presidency. The former president did his writing while recovering from a pain in his back which struck him while on vacation and which kept him off the golf course for 26 days.

Weather Balks U.S. Plan To Fire A. B. Shepard Jr. Into Space; Wait 48 Hrs.

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Bad weather forced postponement today of America's first man-in-space shot and the chosen astronaut, Alan B. Shepard Jr., must wait at least 48 hours before he takes his rocket ride into the heavens and the history books.

Announcement that Shepard, 37-year-old Navy commander, had been chosen for the daring adventure came simultaneously with a report that unfavorable weather had spoiled a try this morning to launch him 115 miles into space aboard a Redstone rocket.

The backup astronaut, to take Shepard's place in the 3,000-pound Project Mercury space capsule if he is unable to go when the time comes, is John H. Glenn Jr., 30, a Marine lieutenant colonel.

HAD DONNED SUIT

Shepard had donned his pressure suit and sat in a hangar at the missile test center, sweating out the moment when he would be called to embark on the most thrilling voyage ever taken by an American.

Observers reported that he sat quietly, outwardly calm, and eager to be the man who would challenge the Soviet feat of blasting a man into the weightless void beyond the atmosphere of the earth.

In the coming 48 hours, physicians will keep Shepard under constant surveillance to see how he bears up under the mounting tension. A physical or psychological disorder would sideline him in favor of Glenn, who also will remain under observation in the Cape ready room.

PROSPECTS NEVER GOOD

If Shepard still is in good condition, mentally and physically, at the next scheduled launch time, he will remain the choice.

The final countdown began at 12:30 a.m. but prospects were never good. A heavy cloud cover over the Cape and down along the

CLAIM SIGNERS SUFFICIENT TO BLOCK ZONING

"We're in the driver's seat and that's where the citizens ought to be," Attorney Ronald J. Hagarman told members of the Cumberland Twp. Citizens' Committee Monday evening at a meeting at the Five Star Restaurant on the Emmitsburg Rd.

"We're in a very strong position on the matter of zoning and if they (the Planning Commission and supervisors) don't follow our wishes we can pull the rug out from under them," Hagarman said after Chairman Fred Green told the 50 persons present that the committee "has signatures of the owners of 70 to 80 per cent of the properties in the township on petitions opposing the proposed zoning ordinance." Only 51 per cent are required by law.

Hagarman told the committee that under the law, zoning cannot be acted upon for two years in Cumberland Twp. if the citizens' petitions are placed on file at the court house.

SEE "WATCHDOG" ROLE

Opinions expressed by committee members Monday evening were divided on what course of action the committee should take. Some urged the committee to "crush zoning in our township" by filing the papers at once and bringing a sudden end to the discussions while others, including the officers and legal counsel, favored using the petitions to force "constructive" ordinances from the township supervisors.

Each time the question of

15 MORE ARE INDICTED BY GRAND JURORS

Fifteen indictments were handed up by the Adams County grand jury Monday evening about 5 o'clock, completing a day's work in which a total of 22 true bills were returned by the jury, one of the busiest days put in by a county grand jury in many terms.

The county court, following the return of the grand jury and the arraignment of defendants which followed, estimated it will have 16 criminal trials next week. The number of cases is not as large as the number of indictments because several involve the same person and usually all indictments against an individual are tried simultaneously. In addition some of the men indicted are in prison elsewhere and will not appear for trial this term.

The court session Monday showed there will be three civil suits for the current term of court.

MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Those indicted included: Dorothy J. Bretzman, York Springs R. 1, and Richard S. Kuhn, Biglerville R. 1, morals charges; Frank Glen Wallen, Orrtanna R. 1, six counts on two indictments on fraudulent conversion, forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses; Robert D. Jackson, 256 S. Washington St., receiving stolen goods; Charles Smith, Gettysburg R. 6, aggravated assault and battery; Benjamin Thomas, Chambersburg, assault and battery.

Joseph K. French, 118 W. High St., involuntary manslaughter and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence. Also to be heard during the trial, at the request of French's attorney, will be a charge of failing to yield one-half the highway.

Allen Richard Crosier, Hanover, malicious mischief, with one count thrown out and the other found to be a true bill; David James Kaiser, Littlestown R. 2, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and corrupting the morals of a minor; Lester E. Hertz, Hanover R. 4, driving

Dr. Harry F. Baughman Resigns As President Of Lutheran Seminary Today

DR. H. F. BAUGHMAN

Dr. Harry F. Baughman, who for ten years has been president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, today tendered his resignation to the board of directors with the request that it become effective not later than September 1, 1962.

Dr. Baughman said that he originally planned to retire before the beginning of the present academic year but when the proposed merger of the local and Mt. Airy seminaries developed he made it his course "undesirable and perhaps unwise."

The local theologian told The Gettysburg Times that he did not want to leave the office when so much work was involved in studying the merger question and he did not want to be placed in the light of wanting "to run away from the fight."

AT SEMINARY 20 YEARS

His letter of resignation follows in full:

"Ten years ago you entrusted me, after a ten-year professorship, with the responsibility of administering the affairs of the Seminary. The passage of time has brought me to within two years of the constitutional date for retirement. My private life plan has been to retire before the beginning of the present academic year. The involvements of the merger negotiations made this course undesirable and perhaps unwise.

"However, in fairness to the Board and its task of securing a successor, I now call attention to the approaching terminus set by the Constitution and present my resignation with the request that it become effective not later than September 1, 1962.

"NEED YOUNGER MAN"

"In taking this step and putting it in this form, I have the purpose to make clear my willingness to retire at an earlier date, and at the same time my willingness to continue through the period of merger negotiations. By the date indicated, the merger issue will have been settled and the incoming president can begin his term in full knowledge of the circumstances under which he shall carry forward.

"As I offer this resignation, I would express my complete satisfaction with the support and cooperation that I have received from our Board of Directors, the faculty, the staff and all who have been associated in the work here during these ten years. My entire motive is the conviction that the next period in the life of the Seminary requires the vigor, the imagination, and the energies of a younger man. It is my desire that this retirement include also the teaching office.

"I pledge myself to cooperate in every way with the Seminary and its administration in the future. My deep gratitude is expressed to the Board and to our Heavenly Father, who has guided and directed us all through these years."

COURT OKAYS NEW COUNTY HOME MONDAY

The Adams County court Monday afternoon approved the construction of the new county home and directed that the county commissioners put the building into use.

Decision of the court followed receipt of the report of the Board of View, Allen I. McDonnell, Burgess Wilbur L. Plank and Attorney Eugene R. Hartman.

The board reported: "Our inspection revealed the structure to be constructed with excellent materials with better than average workmanship."

In its report the board listed a number of "minor flaws" which it said "have been pointed out to Mr. Jordan (W. E. Jordan, superintendent of the county home) and to the architect and most of the same have been corrected already and both have promised that all would be corrected in the near future, and it is pointed out to the court that these are indeed minor flaws and not harmful to the structure."

LIST MINOR FLAWS

The "minor flaws" were listed in the first part of the report which stated "We have examined the county home and find:

"Heating system—hangers for horizontal piping missing at several locations.

"Plumbing system—insulation was missing from several exposed water lines in the kitchen and there is a concrete grease trap. The architect advised that provisions will be made for inspection and clean out which is

FACULTY FUND ESTABLISHED AT SEMINARY

The board of directors of the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary heard reports and noted the coming to the campus of two professors added to the faculty by previous action at a meeting at the seminary today. Prof. Herbert W. Stroup Jr. has assumed his post as director of field work and professor in the practical departments. Dr. Lawrence D. Folkemeier joined the faculty at the beginning of the second quarter. He will teach in the department of theology. Both professors will be installed in special ceremonies Thursday afternoon.

The board also received a report that Dr. Eric W. Gritsch, called to succeed the late Dr. Reginald W. Deitz, had accepted the call and will begin his duties in September.

The board authorized the extension of the sabbatical leave for professors to two quarters instead of one.

HAVE RESEARCH FUND

A faculty research fund was established as the result of a bequest by William B. Martz, Carlisle, the income of which may be drawn upon for grants to the faculty for special research projects.

Reported also was the completion of major project of construction on the administration building and repairs to other buildings at a total cost of $78,000.

A progress report on the merger conversations between Mt. Airy and the local seminary was made. This report announced a meeting of the joint committee on merger proposals to be held on June 2. From that meeting will come a report to the board of directors who will act upon the report and make recommendations to the supporting synods at their meetings in 1962.

workmen's compensation for the firemen in case of injury during any of those activities.

Naugle reported that he had been instructed by the insurance carrier to ask the resolution.

Because there will be no general council inspection of streets this year, the highway committee and one councilman from each ward will comprise a committee to set up the schedule for resurfacing of streets this summer.

Naugle's motion that the town name a "meter man" to check the meters on an hourly basis "and free police for police duty" was withdrawn after Councilman John Thrush said that he believes the man who checks the meters should have police powers and indicated he expects soon to have authority for an ordinance by which the town may engage a part-time policeman.

PLAN TRAFFIC LINES

The highway committee and other councilmen were asked to meet at the corner of Baltimore St. and Middle St. and at Baltimore and High Sts. to study the possibility of placing lines on the street arranging a lane for left hand turns, for traffic moving through or making right hand turns, similar to the set up at Steinwehr Ave. and Washington St.

Councilman Clyde DeHaas inquired about the Phillips 66 sign at the intersection of Steinwehr Ave. and S. Washington St. and asked whether there is an ordinance prohibiting signs extending over the street. He was told the town has no ordinance but the signs by state law must be 14 feet above the street level.

DeHaas asked that the stream in the rear of the Heller and Keller garage be covered. He said the present sidewalk ends abruptly at the stream and "someone could fall into it."

Final exoneration of taxes was given Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert. His report showed $2,534 taxes outstanding on January 1. The amount outstanding now is $1,331.05. Of that amount, $1,036.05 of that amount of $56.92 have been filed. The remainder represents duplications, deceased persons, those who moved, those on relief, etc.

Bird, Downingtown, two burglary and larceny charges; Leon Gerald Little, Hanover, burglary and larceny with a true bill found on the first indictment and not a true bill found on the second; Charles A. CHARGES PLEA

At the arraignment most of the defendants renewed pleas of innocent or guilty which they had previously made. Ileen H. Spalding, Hanover R. 4, who had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, has changed her plea to innocent, the court was informed by Attorney Walter Katherman.

Herbert L. Everly, Mt. Airy, R. 4, Md., charged with larceny of a motor vehicle, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of taking a car without the owner's consent which was accepted. He told the court he had been intoxicated and wanted to go home and apparently took the first car he found.

The court indicated that trial of Kingsley and Bird will probably not be held at this term of court because both are in other prisons. Action on the morals charge against Richard L. Pascoe, McSherrystown, was continued to the next term of court. Several other defendants were also reported in their cases probably will not occur during the current term.

2 WOMEN EXCUSED

William H. Musser Jr. was foreman for the grand jury. Two women scheduled for grand jury duty were excused: Mrs. Anna Mae Brady, Hanover R. 4, and Mrs. Mae Wolf, East Berlin.

necessary for proper operation. "Electrical system — it was noted that local switches in a number of rooms were making or breaking the current prior to switch being snapped to off or on position.

OTHER CORRECTIONS

"Outside doors do not close as tightly as desired and insulation was advised.

"Rods and shelves and inside drawers were not painted or finished.

"Windows painted shut in some rooms and lounges. "Corner joint in closets cracked and paint peeled due to installation of shelves and clothing rods.

"Water leaks in roof."

RECOMMEND USE

The report noted: "As to the leaks in the roof, these have been corrected and were caused by the strong winds and heavy snows of the winter. As to the unfinished wood, this was not a part of the specifications, but it is the understanding of the viewers that this will be taken care of in the near future." The viewers said they "each spent three days on this examination and viewed thoroughly the outside masonry, were on the roof and inspected thoroughly every room and every fixture and facility" of the new county home.

In its order the court directed that the viewers each be paid $30-$10 for each day they worked; found that the plans and specifications and contracts as approved by the court have been complied with; directed that the various contractors be given final payment on completion of the "minor details" listed in the viewers' report to the satisfaction of the commissioners and that "the county Home for the Aged be used by the commissioners and put into the uses for which the said home was built."

established on the west side of S. Washington St. between Chambersburg St. and W. High St. The procedure is necessary in order for borough police to issue a citation for parking vehicles on the sidewalk.

Discussion by council indicated that cars are being parked on the sidewalk at the C. W. Epley Garage and H. and H. Machine Shop along S. Washington St. At both places the sidewalk has no curb line. Discussion indicated that a line painted on the sidewalks at those points designating the line as the "curb line" would be sufficient to permit police to enforce the 1941 ordinance against parking on the sidewalk.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS

Among the matters listed by the Second Ward councilmen for action was to place a curb at the former Epley used car lot on Chambersburg St. and place meters there.

Council authorized its committee to proceed with a joint program with N. A. Meligakes, the YWCA, Masonic Lodge and L. E. Smith to replace an area of sidewalk in the southeast corner of Lincoln Square. Council was told that it is believed an old well may be in front of the YWCA and this may be the reason "holes" develop there from time to time. Council was told that McDermitt, Inc., plans to begin concreting the Tiber bottom "as soon as weather permits."

290 miles of the missile range over which the Redstone was to fly brought frowns to the faces of Project Mercury scientists.

They needed clear visibility so that in the critical moments after the blastoff they could have good visual tracking and be ready to trigger Shepard's escape mechanism at the first hint of any trouble.

WEATHER DIDN'T BREAK

While scientists and physicians checked everything from the working parts of the rocket to the functioning of Shepard's heart, weather men looked hopefully for a breakup in the overcast.

But weather conditions did not change and at 7:40 a.m. the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the shot was off until at least Thursday.

the borough on W. High St. at the entrance of the proposed Reynolds Ave. Extended. Council was given the land some years ago for the extension, but, when no plans for opening the street developed, placed a sidewalk across the 30-foot section. Shealer said he intends to build a house facing Reynolds Ave. He asked about extension of the street into an alley and was told by council that the alley is privately owned but that if he could get releases from the owners to make the alley public council would consider ordaining it.

Ellis Smith was told that if he can obtain releases from property owners on the new private alley between Franklin and S. Washington Sts., along which he plans to build ten houses, council will ordain the alley.

"What's the committee going to do" came up, Green or Hagarman or another officer referred the questioner to a statement of purpose read at the opening of the meeting and published Monday in The Gettysburg Times. It pledges the committee to opposition to the proposed zoning ordinance but commits the committee "to a more constructive program of our own, initiated by the citizens."

Hagarman told the committee he can cite four "areas in which the proposed ordinance is unconstitutional" and called it "confiscatory, arbitrary and restrictive."

There was general agreement that after the zoning matter is settled the committee will continue in a "watchdog" role on township affairs.

PLAN NEXT MEETING

While there was a considerable section of the committee Monday night in favor of "crushing zoning and wiping the word out of the dictionary," there was another group that saw the future need for some type of zoning or planning and favored shaping the proposed ordinance into a form acceptable to the committee, thus making use of technical data already gathered and "getting something for the $10,000 already spent."

Senate Approves $1,800 Pension For Retired Teachers

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate has unanimously approved a measure guaranteeing retired teachers an $1,800-a-year pension.

By a vote of 49-0 the Senate Monday passed and sent to the House the bill which extends for two years the deadline for bringing the pensions of long retired teachers in line with present pensions.

The $1,800 minimum would include money received under Social Security. The state will make up the difference to give these teachers at least $150 a month. The measure also extends the minimum pension to teachers who retired early because of disability.

State officials estimate that some 5,000 teachers will benefit from the extension, which would run until mid 1963.

Consultant Wesley Kriebel to present a program on community development and planning. The date for the meeting was not set.

Vice President Kenneth Dick urged the committee to work "just as hard for a constructive program for our township as we have to stop this zoning ordinance."

"UP TO SUPERVISORS"

The committee takes the position now that the "next move is up to the supervisors," as it was expressed by Chairman Green.

Some of the members indicated they will attend the Planning Commission meeting announced for the court house Thursday evening.

Green told the committee the signatures already on the petitions to stop the zoning ordinance include "98 per cent of the businesses, 95 per cent of the farmers, 90 per cent of the small home owners and 30 per cent of the large home owners. We have the wealthiest and the poorest in the township — and we're getting more signers all the time."

A treasurer's report read at the opening of the meeting showed a balance of $91.41 in the committee treasury "so we don't need any more money now," Green said. The committee already has paid out $135.65 and is paying a $61 advertising bill to bring the balance down to $91.

property owners to remove all barns, sheds, chicken houses and other unused buildings at the rear of their properties. By doing this, the area will be made available for parking facilities for use of the owner or tenants. In this way more space will be available for traffic, and the property owners will be adding to the value of their property by removing all possible fire hazards, or run down buildings, on their lots.

LETTER FROM ORNER

"The above recommendation is made with the following in mind: "One side parking on more of the streets of the borough."

"The report of the sanitary conditions of the borough as it appeared in the report by the state health department."

"The program started by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce in promoting the beautification of the fronts of the stores and houses in our town. Why not do something about the back?"

"We realize that in some cases the removal of these buildings will work a hardship on some property owners, therefore we would suggest that the borough road crew, with the permission of the property owners, remove said buildings and clean and rake up the ground suitable for parking. As this type of refuse could be dumped in the old borough dump, the cost would not be excessive compared to the results."

The letter was signed by the chairman, Orville B. Orner.

The other letter simply recommended two-way traffic where one-way traffic now exists on three borough streets, and establishment of one-side parking on those streets.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

First Day At Curb Market:

Early spring vegetables were in great demand at the curb market which was formally opened for 1911 at half past five this morning by the ringing of the bell by Market Master Miller.

A half dozen truckers braved the somewhat chilly blasts and offered for sale the very best of the early vegetables and the people of town were on hand to buy. Asparagus proved the general favorite and it took only a few minutes for all that appeared to be sold. The market men claim that it is slow cutting this year and that the yield will not be plentiful for a week or more.

8th Annual Convention: The eighth annual convention of the Adams County Christian Endeavor Association will be held in the Lutheran church at New Oxford Thursday and Friday of this week. At every session musical numbers and several recitations will go to make up the entertainment part of the convention. The first session will be held Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Rev. W. A. Korn, of New Oxford, will conduct the devotional service. Rev. D. T. Koser, of Arendtsville, will make an address on "Active Endeavor" and Rev. C. W. Baker, pastor of the Lutheran churches at New Oxford and McSherrytown, will also make an address. Thursday evening the address will be made by Rev. E. M. Gearhart, of Sunbury.

H. Milton Roth Is Re-elected: Prof. H. Milton Roth was this morning re-elected superintendent of the public schools of Adams County for the next three years.

Of the two hundred and ten school directors in the county one hundred and ninety three were present. A majority of those present was necessary to elect or re-elect. The election was complete on the first ballot. Prior to the voting, which was done via voice, the salary for the coming three years was fixed at $1,500 per annum, the same as in the past.

Miss Lower's Cottage Burned: A fire, started by a passing locomotive on the Western Maryland Railroad at Pen-Mar, destroyed a handsome summer cottage owned by Miss Mary Lower, of Table Rock, together with all its furniture, late Saturday afternoon. The porch of the adjoining cottage, which is owned by Mrs. Oberholzer, of Baltimore, was burned. The damage to the two properties amounts to about $5,000. Several acres of valuable timber land were also burned over. The valiant work of the residents in the vicinity of the fire is responsible for the saving of many properties.

Bogus Canvasser Out: Information has just reached The Times office that a newspaper canvasser has been taking subscriptions and receiving money for The Times on the rural routes leading out from Biglerville.

The Times has not given authority to anyone to receive money in payment for subscriptions or any other bills and requests that all persons having paid a canvasser will bring their receipts to our office or inform us to whom they have paid money in order that we may take steps for the arrest of the canvasser.

We believe it is a convenience to our subscribers as well as to ourselves to have a canvasser or collector travel over the county and when we are able to secure an honest capable man for the position we will equip him with written authority to act for us.

Today's Talk

BE A CREATOR
One of the great things in this life is to be a creator. The elder Henry Ford in one of our intimate talks one day told me that among the greatest joys in business, indeed in any useful sphere of activity, is where a man is creating something useful. He also said when a man did something to inspire others to do something, it marked him as one of the great men of his time.

Ford said, too, we should watch the man with ideas, not merely the man who built something through the medium of money. "Bless a useful person," he told me, "and you will always be inspiring another—guiding him along the path to success as a leader useful in his time."

Few men did more to make people happy or gave the world more simple and efficient ideas that have benefited millions than did Henry Ford. He achieved wealth—but it was spent in productive usefulness. Ford also loved children and spent large sums to place beauty in the lives of the little folk of his time. The classes conducted in the little schoolhouse at his Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Michigan, was always a sight that inspired me.

His belief was that young people should be urged to think things out, and he looked upon work not only as a right but a privilege. Help young people and men to help themselves was his theory.

Few men have had greater vision than the elder Ford and everything he created had an educational aspect to it. He kept building the tomorrows of yesterday for the eager ones of today.

May his name never lose its lustre. His creations have helped build a better world. Henry Ford was a great American and an inspiring human being and friend.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Standing By"

THE DOCTOR

I don't see why Pa likes him so
And seems so glad to have him come.

He jabs my ribs and wants to know

If here and there it's hurting some.

He holds my wrist, coz there are things

In there which always jump and jerk;

Then with a telephone he brings,
He listens to my breather work.

He taps my back and pinches me,
Then hangs a mirror on his head

And looks into my throat to see
What makes it hurt and if it's red.

Then on his knee he starts to write
And says to mother with a smile:

"This ought to fix him up all right;
We'll cure him in a little while."

Then Pa says every time he goes:
"That's money I am glad to pay.

It's worth it when a fellow knows
His pal will soon be up to play."

But maybe if my Pa were me
And had to take his pills and all,

He wouldn't be so glad to see
The doctor come and make a call.

other new all-time record for total snow in any winter in Gettysburg weather history. The six inches last month brought the season's total to 69.2 inches, topping the previous all-time record set in 1917-18 at 62.8 inches.

ARENDTSVILLE REPORT

The Arendtsville weather station came up Monday with a similar report of a cold, wet April. Dr. Frank Hewitson, observer there, said the month's average temperature of 46.75 degrees is 4.1 degrees below normal there and 8.4 degrees below April of last year. The average daily high was 56.3 degrees and the daily low was 37.2 degrees. The high was 84 degrees on April 24 while the low came on April 4 at 26.

Rainfall totaled 7.31 inches there and that is 3.54 inches above Arendtsville's normal. It tops April of last year by 4.81 inches. The four-month accumulation of 17.61 inches is 4.5 inches above normal and 4.51 inches above last year. Snows there totaled four inches and brought the station's winter total up to 69.7 inches, a new record. Youth, 14, Dies Of
Baseball Injury

NEW CUMBERLAND, Pa. (AP)—Richard W. Sponaugle Jr., 14, died Friday of an injury suffered during baseball practice at New Cumberland Junior High School. Death was attributed to a hemorrhage.

School Principal S. P. Bomgardner said a batted ball glanced off the boy's glove and struck him in the head Thursday afternoon during practice.

Young Sponaugle was not believed to be seriously injured and sat on the bench until the practice session was over; the principal said.

The boy's parents reported he seemed to be all right when he came home. They said the family doctor was called later when Richard complained of a headache.

EXPECT WAGE
BILL TO PASS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A minimum wage bill marking an historic break-through in coverage for additional employees has been worked out by Senate-House conferees.

Tailored to win vital House votes, the measure would raise the present $1 an hour wage floor to $1.25 by 1963.

But its key provisions in the view of many backers of the legislation would bring an additional 3.62 million workers under the law.

Most of this new coverage would be in large retail stores. It would mark the first time since President Franklin D. Roosevelt got the original act passed in 1938 that there has been any extension of the workers covered.

The compromise bill is regarded leader for the next regular meeting on Sunday, May 14, at 7 p.m.

"Faith in God" was the subject of the topic discussed by Mrs. George Trump at the meeting of the Luther League of St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday evening. The following will represent the league at a Luther League retreat on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Camp Nawaka, near Arendtsville: Dwight Strevig, Jo Ann Beamer, Dale Bair, Patricia Myers and Larry Bair. The group will attend the local ministerium-sponsored rally for young people on Sunday at St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall. Each person will take his own box lunch, leaving from the church at 3 p.m. The regular meeting will be held on Sunday, May 14, at 6 p.m.

Twenty-five young people of Redeemer's United Church of Christ enjoyed a tour of the Hanover Shoe Farms on Sunday afternoon. The Youth Fellowship had a conducted tour of the estate by the farm superintendent. The group then returned to the church where a message was presented by Henry So, a Senior student at Western Maryland College, Westminster, and a native of Indonesia. Mr. So spoke on the customs of Indonesia. The group then motored to the Sam Lewis State Park, near Wrightsville, for games and refreshments. This was the final seasonal meeting of the Youth Fellowship; there will be social affairs during the summer months and regular meetings will be resumed in the fall. The Fellowship will attend the youth rally at St. Luke's Union Church on Sunday from 3:30 to 7 p.m.

Boy Drowns Searching For
Missing Men; 10 Are KilledEXECUTION
ORDERS ARE SHOWN COURT

JERUSALEM (AP)—Two telegrams, signed by Adolf Eichmann and ordering the execution of specific groups of Jews, were put in evidence Monday by the prosecution in an effort to link him directly with the wartime exterminations.

Eichmann's attorney, Dr. Robert Servatius, promptly disputed the messages.

Earlier a spectator in the gallery burst into hysterical tears and shouted, "Where is my family? Kill! Kill!"

"WANTED TO HIT HIM"

Police hustled the man outside. He said he was Zvi Scheffer, 46, Hungarian-born, and that he broke down when a witness described a Nazi deportation train on which members of Scheffer's own family were taken away.

He told reporters that only four members of his family, out of 62, survived the Nazi holocaust.

"I only wanted to hit him (Eichmann) once," Scheffer told police. "Why don't they kill him? What are they doing?"

DESCRIBED CRUELITIES

During the early part of the morning session, witnesses described Nazi cruelties in Poland soon after the invasion of the Soviet Union began in 1941.

One told of a Gestapo officer who took a Jewish child from its mother's arms, swung the baby by its heels and smashed its head on the pavement.

Testimony about beatings, torture by electricity, and forcible sexual relations "before the eyes of children" also went in the record.

Big buffet salad: mix cooked frozen (or canned) baby green lima beans and snap beans with canned kidney beans, draining all of them well. Marinate in French dressing and then toss with mixed crisp greens just before serving.

ed as an important victory for President Kennedy since it preserves the basic framework of the Senate version which embodied administration recommendations. The House passed a chopped-down measure sponsored by Republicans and some Southern Democrats.

The final product comes up Wednesday—first in the Senate, then in the House.

There is no problem in the Senate which passed the broader bill last month 65 to 28.

But in the House a bitter fight is expected. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Labor Committee and head of his branch's conferees on the wage bill, said he expected victory by 12 votes.

Riding with Russell

by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

The driver who believes he never makes a mistake is already guilty of the biggest one possible. Just because the trouble with your car doesn't result in an alarming racket or threaten to leave you stranded is no reason to assume you have no cause for concern. Some of the most serious ailments have appearances of being minor.

That is why seasoned mechanics always check into any evidences of hidden trouble. You would assume that broken spring leaves would result in the car sagging noticeably to the weak side, and with riding qualities seriously affected, yet there have been many cases where this sort of trouble has not made itself known to the unsuspecting driver until he master leaf broke and the car dropped to the rear wheel. Smell of gasoline under the hood leaves many drivers with the conclusion that the carburetor is a bit leaky, but a mechanic is more inclined to check the gas lines. What he finds may head off a breakdown.

There may seem to be nothing alarming about the engine appearing to be running a little fast for the speed of the car, but with standard shift this indicates a slipping clutch and with an automatic transmission it usually means low oil level.

Every little car noise has a meaning of its own, but you can't judge its seriousness by the degree of its intensity.

CAUSES FUEL STARVATION

I have so frequently mentioned trouble with that flexible line between the main line and the pump you'd hardly suspect I could find anything new to say about it, but such is the case. Latest is the discovery by one company that a tendency for the engine to starve for fuel can be caused by this little line swelling. The remedy is merely to replace it.

Some day you may read an interesting story about the trials and tribulations of automotive engineers in their efforts to lower car floorings and reduce the much discussed "hump." It goes way back to the introduction of hypoid rear-end gears in which the pinion was made to mesh with the ring gear near the latter's bottom edge. This introduced need for extreme pressure lubricants and more accurate adjustments. About the same time engines were tilted rearward so that the transmission and propeller shaft could be lowered. More recently we have seen the rear mounted engine making possible a flat floor, and very nearly the same is obtained with a curved propeller shaft plus a transmission combined with the rear axle.

With such a record it hasn't helped to find that the public isn't too annoyed by the floor hump anyway.

MECHANIC JOE SPEAKING:

"When you are told that your car needs new universals don't assume that the repair job will just save a possible breakdown. The new joints will save trouble with the rear end gears. There always is a certain amount of slack or play in the rear-end gears as well as in the universals, but if this becomes excessive because of wear in the joints there is certain to be increased strain on the pinion and ring gear. Much of rear-end gear noise can be traced to owners not replacing worn universals soon enough."

WHAT'S YOUR TROUBLE?

Q. I understand that loose jets in the carburetor will cause leakage of gasoline when the car stands. Would a new fuel pump help check this? J. B.

A. This is strictly a carburetor condition.

Q. The engine of my car has developed a bad case of rough idling. Do you think the timing could be off base? Wm. L. T.

A. Incorrect timing seldom figures in this sort of trouble. Better check for valve stickage.

Q. What would cause a car to pull to the left when the engine is accelerated? I do not notice this at other times. H. N. F.

A. Sometimes a binding rear spring shackle will have this effect. From what you have added in your letter about the collision you had with the car I think you are going to find that the frame is damaged.

Q. Even though there is no wind blowing I feel as if a strong headwind were holding the car back when I try to go above a certain speed on the open road. The effect is intermittent. L. N. C.

A. The engine is the cause of this. It may not be getting enough gas because of low fuel pump pressure. The trouble can also be due to weak valve springs.

Q. There's a bumping action in the rear of my car when going over rough roads. Have checked everything in the luggage compartment. H. N. S.

A. Check the rear spring clips. Q. Why is it that while the gap between spark plug points will decrease with mileage the gap between breaker points in the ignition distributor will actually decrease? P. D. V.

A. Good question. Decrease in breaker point gap is due to wear on the little fibre rubbing block of the breaker arm. This block rides on the cams of the distributor shaft.

Q. I have always found special oils effective in checking valve stickage. Now, while I am sure there is a sticking valve, these oils seem to have no effect. Why? P. McN.

A. Apparently the engine is suffering from a burned or a warped valve stem. Solvent oils can't be expected to solve such a mechanical condition.

Q. Is it true that, in the old days when new cars were delivered from the factory by driving them over the road, operators used to loosen the spark plugs to prevent pistons from seizing when the cars were driven fast? C. J. G.

A. True enough. Loose plugs will cause oil to be sucked up from the crankcase to overlubricate the

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

After 30 years of urging state highway departments to adopt voluntarily uniform traffic signs, signals and highway markings for the benefit of traveling motorists, the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has ordered the use of standard signs and markings on all highways supported in whole or part by federal funds.

As a result, many states are being forced to re-examine the signs and markings on many of their highways.

The state of Iowa, one of the progressive states in traffic safety activities, has taken the lead in this re-examination. Working with the American Association of State Highway Officials and aided by the Automotive Safety Foundation, Iowa traffic authorities have begun a pilot survey of signs and markings throughout the state. The survey is expected to act as a guide to other states in determining needs and developing techniques to conform to the ruling of the Bureau of Public Roads.

MOST SIGNS OBSOLETE

Although it is too early for a complete evaluation of the finding of the pilot survey, preliminary results indicate that more than half the signs on rural primary road systems and primary road extensions in cities and towns are obsolete and fail to meet uniform standards.

The survey covered 8,700 miles of primary rural roads with a total of 215,000 signs. Of these, 95,000 are obsolete and 14,500 were unauthorized. The unauthorized signs had been erected by individuals, municipalities, organizations and advertisers without permission of the state, which has jurisdiction over signs on the right-of-way of walls. This practice increased carbon deposits but those who the days when the new owner probably would have to take off the cylinder head for cleaning every 2,500 miles anyway.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of the Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. Please confine inquiries to one subject and limit letters to 100 words or less.

PERSONS TO BE ON TV SHOWS ARE SCREENED

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Gosh," you say enviously, "I wish I had a chance to get on one of those audience participation shows. Look at all the loot they get—and I could do as well as any of those people."

Well, maybe you could. But maybe you'd tighten up with stage fright so serious you'd have a hard time remembering your own name. Or maybe you'd become so exhilarated by the limelight you would become a hysterical showoff.

Before those maybes have a chance to manifest themselves, there's the first problem: Getting the chance to be on the show. Undoubtedly the best way is to write in for tickets to attend the show.

GIVEN INTERVIEWS

Contestants for "The Price Is Right" are chosen from the studio audience. A member of the production staff instructs anyone who would like to be on the show to wait after the program. The ones who linger are interviewed and the men and women contestants you see are selected from them.

That also is the system used by "Play Your Hunch," "Say When," and "Number, Please."

DEPENDS ON TYPE

The way contestants are chosen is usually decided by the type of game played. Contestants for "To Tell the Truth," for one, are usually found by the producers of the show, who watch newspapers and magazines for likely candistate highways.

According to Carl Schach, engineer of planning for the survey has two major benefits. It will provide data on which budgets for improvements in traffic control budgets can be based and it will help the Highway Commission program needed improvements in an orderly manner.

The pilot survey will also serve as a guide to similar surveys by other states that sooner or later must adopt uniform signs on federally supported highways.

Castro Plans Red Rally In Havana

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cubans massed Monday in Havana's civic square for a Moscow-styled May Day of Fidel Castro's Socialist revolution and the victory of his troops over insurgent invaders.

Castro, who Sunday was awarded the Lenin peace prize, President Osvaldo Dorticos and economic chief Ernesto Guevara were scheduled to address multitudes of workers and militia brought into the capital for the day. Havana radio said about three million persons would participate in the rally.

The prime minister, fresh from his victory over invasion forces that landed in Cuba two weeks ago, was expected to speak at length on the course of his regime now that it has entered into its "Socialist phase."

50 Pacifists On Long Moscow Hike

DONORA, Pa. (AP)—A group of about 50 men and women advocating nonviolent settlement of international disputes spent the night here before continuing their cross-country hike.

The group, sponsored by the Committee for Non-Violent Action, New York, left San Francisco last December and hopes to reach New York by June 1 after stops in Washington and Philadelphia.

From New York, 10 will fly to England then walk across Europe to Moscow, which they hope to reach by fall.

GRANT FELLOWSHIPS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Guggenheim Memorial Foundation has granted $1,350,000 worth of fellowships to 257 scholars, scientists and artists, including Dr. Ernst Berliner, professor of chemistry at Bryn Mawr College, Dr. James J. Fritz, associate profes-dates as the truthful player. Then they search out amusing or off-beat "side characters," as the other two are called.

Producers of "Video Village" have two employees who do nothing but look around bus terminals, railroad stations and department stores for interesting looking contestants.

Recommended tonight: "Thriller," NBC, 9:10 (EDT)—"Good Imagination" about a book dealer solving a mystery through his knowledge of literature. Red Skelton Show, CBS, 9:30-10—"Appleby's Castle," with Marilyn Maxwell.

PA. DEMOCRATS TAKE OVER ALL STATE OFFICES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Democrats complete control of statewide elective fiscal offices today with the inauguration of Thomas Z. Minehart as auditor general.

Installation ceremonies for the 53-year-old Philadelphia lawyer marked a milestone in state Democratic history—it was the first time in 22 years that Democrats controlled all five statewide elective posts and only the second time since the Civil War.

The ceremony was a first event for Minehart. His only previous elective post was as a member of the Philadelphia City Council from 1936 to 1940.

Mrs. Grace M. Sloan was inaugurated Monday as state treasurer.

Minehart was a comparative unknown when he ran for the post of auditor general in last fall's campaign. He had confined his political activity to the city of Philadelphia, where he practiced law. He makes his home in suburban Fort Washington.

Minehart's predecessor in the fiscal post was Charles C. Smith, a Philadelphia Republican.

Though law and politics are sor of chemistry at Pennsylvania State University, and Dr. David Herlihy, assistant professor of history at Bryn Mawr.

Van Zandt Favors President's Stand

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A Republican congressman from Pennsylvania favors the use of force by the United States to prevent Communism from penetrating the western hemisphere.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt told a Republican rally here Saturday night that President Kennedy should "speak out the military might" in fighting Communism on this side of the globe.

He said Russia would have no choice but to pull out if the United States demonstrated its military might in the world's trouble spots.

Van Zandt said he strongly favors the President's stand "not to compromise or negotiate with the Communists in the western hemisphere."

Minehart's principal vocations he is also a playwright and amateur actor. That probably makes him the first playwright to hold a statewide post, though two eminently successful novelists serve on the State Supreme Court.

In 1942 Minehart ran unsuccessfully for Congress from Philadelphia's 6th District. The post was won by Hugh Scott, now junior U.S. senator from Pennsylvania.

The six-foot, bespectacled Minehart said during his campaign that one of his aims in government would be to help bring about better government through thrift and what he considers to be sound money policies.

Minehart and his wife, the former Janet Mulvaney, are the parents of five children.

BUYING A USED CAR?

Timely Tips That Can Help Protect Your Investment!

1. Choose your dealer carefully.
2. Buy only from a well established reputable dealer.
3. Buy only from a dealer who maintains his own adequate facilities to service the car you buy.
4. Insist on a WARRANTY in writing that can be "backed-up."
5. BUYING from a NEW CAR DEALER IS YOUR BEST BET. . . . Most new car dealers sell locally owned trade-ins, not Used Cars obtained from Auto Auctions or distress merchandise from large cities.
6. Insist on knowing where the Used Car came from. "Ask who was the previous owner." Most new car dealers will be happy to tell you and invite you to contact the previous owner.
7. New Cars bought from Used Car Dealers . . . REMEMBER, only the New Car Dealer is authorized to extend a FACTORY WARRANTY to a buyer, NO ONE ELSE.

MOSCOW HOLDS FIRST MAY DAY OF SPACE AGE

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow celebrated the first May Day of the space age Monday with spaceman Yuri Gagarin in a place of honor on the Red Square reviewing stand next to Nikita Khrushchev.

Looking trim in air force uniform, Gagarin stood with a half-smile on his face as Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky addressed the paraders and the 10,000 spectators admitted to the square.

Gagarin, Khrushchev and other top Soviet leaders watched as Malinovsky, saluting and erect in an open automobile, reviewed rank upon rank of soldiers, sailors and airmen.

ATTENDED IN MILLIONS
Russians poured into the capital by the millions for the holiday, one of the biggest days of the year in the Communist world.

The day in Moscow was bitter cold and cloudy.

Gagarin, in recorded May Day greetings broadcast Monday, said the day is a festival for those with clear conscience who want to make it fine for all working people on earth.

"And we, the Soviet people, are proud to say that this is the goal we are all striving for," he said.

SHORT ON DRINK
Moscow's festive mood was tempered somewhat by shortages of party food and drink, the worst in some years. The vodka supply ran out Saturday. Meat, on sale for a brief period in the street market Saturday and in the

STATE NEEDS $220 MILLION

HARRISBURG (AP)—If the Lawrence administration is to realize what it had anticipated for the 1959-61 biennium it will have to collect almost $220 million during the month of May.

The Office of Administration said Monday that the state has collected a total of $1,648,081,000 during the first 23 months of the 24-month period, but the revised estimates of revenues amounted to $1,867,836,000.

"Although there is only one month remaining in this biennium, it is still impossible to predict with certainty whether these amounts will be realized," the office said in a statement.

The statement said it was especially difficult to estimate the returns from the corporate net income tax.

Gum department store, disappeared again. There was not even sausage in Moscow's shops.

Long lines of Muscovites queued up at the few stores that had oranges and lemons on sale.

As if to acknowledge that shortages were in people's minds, Malinovsky started his keynote speech with an assurance that the Soviet government was determined to provide an abundance of food and goods.

During the years of the Soviet regime, Malinovsky went on, the Soviet Union had been transformed into a mighty power.

DISPLAY OF ARMS
"The dream of man, to fly into space, has become a reality," Malinovsky said.

Behind the ranks of goose-stepping soldiers, airmen and sailors came a gigantic display of armed might. Armored troop carriers, tanks, massive guns, self-propelled cannons and armored cars stormed through red square.

Formations of mobile rocket launchers rolled behind them, the long, needle-nosed shapes of the rockets borne on huge truck-trailers.

After the parade of military units came rank on rank of workers, pouring through the square in a seemingly endless column.

In honor of the day, the Soviet government conferred Lenin peace prizes for 1960 on Cuba's Fidel Castro, Guinea's President Sekou Toure and others.

come tax. It said some $80 million in accelerated business taxes was due by May 1 and only a small percentage of the returns were filed during April.
